Frequently Asked Questions

If I purchase a niche, interment site or memorial plaque, and my plans change down the line, can I cancel my reservation and get my money refunded?

The owner may cancel a reservation for a niche, an interment site, or a memorial plaque by providing written notice of cancellation to the administrator of the Serenity Hill.

If the remains of the person or persons designated on the final accepted reservation have not been inurned in the niche or interred in a site within either five years—unless notice is given to and approved by administration—after the person’s death or 130 years after the person’s birth, the reservation will be cancelled.

If the remains of the person or persons designated on the final accepted reservation are inurned or interred and subsequently removed by a member of the deceased family or to comply with law, the reservation will be canceled.

In all cases of cancellation of a reservation as set forth above, no compensation will be paid or refunding of reservation fees will be made to either the reservation owner or the designated person or persons or their estates or families.

What does my family need to do in order to conduct a service at Serenity Hill and is there an additional fee?

Families or others scheduling services of committal may choose to conduct those as interment services or to host a worship service at The Chapel on the Hill or in other Mo-Ranch facilities suitable for worship, including the historic Chapel. The use of these facilities must be reserved in advance and the proposed service must be discussed in advance with the president of Mo-Ranch or his designee. The fee for such services is included in Serenity Hill pricing.

If the person officiating at a committal is a clergy person from any faith tradition, the president of Mo-Ranch would expect to extend to the officiant an invitation to conduct the worship service as a matter of ecclesiastical courtesy.

Can I visit my loved ones at Serenity Hill at any time?

The Serenity Hill is designed to be available to Mo-Ranch visitors consistent with Mo-Ranch’s regular operating hours. All visitors to Mo-Ranch must check in with the registration desk and are expected to behave in a way that honors Serenity Hill.

What happens to Serenity Hill if Presbyterian Mo-Ranch Assembly ceases to exist?

Presbyterian Mo-Ranch Assembly, by its charter and by a covenant agreement, provides that if for any reason it ceases to exist as a corporate entity or can no longer continue operations as a camp and conference center, ownership of its assets will be vested in the Synod of the Sun (or its successor) of the Presbyterian Church (USA) for the same uses. These provisions provide assurance that in the unlikely event that Mo-Ranch ceases to exist as an organization, administration of the Serenity Hill would remain in the control of the larger church.

Can I supply my own urns for the niche I have purchased at Serenity Hill?

The only urns that can be used in the 8”x 8” niche or interment are the urns provided by Serenity Hill and included in the fee. For those who purchase a 12”x 12” niche may supply their own urns or can purchase urns through Mo-Ranch for $250.

The size and style of the inscription on each niche and on each marker for an in-ground interment and on a memorial plaque is as prescribed by the Serenity Hill. Inscriptions will include the information shown on the final accepted reservation. The deceased's name and dates of birth and death will be inscribed. The deceased name will be permanently marked on the urn. Serenity Hill will arrange for the inscriptions, which also are included in the fee.
